PREFACE

The primary purpose for preparing this genealogical record is to list the known descendants of James Harvey and Sidna Gregg Hanson, who settled in Big Creek Township, Neosho, County, Kansas in 1871 and to give certain data concerning each of them.

To obtain data to use in compiling the record, the compiler sent questionnaires to many of the descendants, with requests for data pertaining to themselves and their descendants. The data presented in this record have been compiled from the data supplied through these questionnaires and from other sources available to the compiler. In a few cases complete data requested, were not supplied in the questionnaires. Efforts were made to obtain the missing data, but sometimes without success.

The compiler also did some research to obtain data concerning James Harvey Hanson and Sidna Gregg, their parents and their siblings and to verify as much of the family traditional lore as possible. The research has been limited because of lack of time to make an extensive search for, and of, records which may exist in various places. More research is needed to trace the ancestral lines back through further generations. The compiler feels at his age, the task may be too time consuming and too strenuous for him to do much along this line. The task will require the searching of public records in the several localities in which the ancestors have lived.

The compiler has worked under somewhat a handicap in the preparation of this record. Many of the public records and other sources of information--as well as a majority of the descendants-- are in Kansas and elsewhere, while he is in Michigan far from the sources of information. Since the family has lived in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, Before moving to Kansas, records in these states also must be inspected before a complete record can be compiled. The fact that many states did not keep complete records of births and deaths until after mid nineteenth century, makes research somewhat difficult.

Not much data have been collected on earlier generations, the compiler may continue the research as a hobby as he may have time. He will try to help anyone who may be interested in tracing the ancestral lines.

The compiler thanks all those who have assisted in the obtaining data for the record. He hopes that this record will be the means to acquaint the younger generations with one of their line of ancestry, and to bring about a better amity among those of this common ancestry and descent.

RECORD OF DESCENDANTS

Introduction

Three of the nine children born to James Harvey and Sidna (Gregg) Hanson died in early childhood, before the family moved to Kansas in 1871. The other six grew to adulthood. They helped establish a family home in the new state. When one of them married, he was assisted in establishing a home of his own. Five of them married, but only four have living descendants at this time.

The lines of descent stemming from these four children are the subjects of this record. Each line of descent is given a code letter; and each descendant, number. The respective lines of descent are indicated thus:

- A descendant of William Arthur Hanson
- B descendant of James Madison Hanson
- C descendant of Mary Elizabeth Hanson Cunningham
- D descendant of Link C [Lincoln] Hanson

The descendants are listed by generations. Each generation makes an integral part of the record. The generations are indicated by Roman numerals: as, I, first; II, second; etc. The generation to which a descendant belongs is also shown by the number of symbols (letter and numerals) in his code number.

A descendant's code number is formed by annexing his rank number (order of birth among siblings) to the parent's number.

The names of children of descendants are not listed with the data on the parents, but in a section under the proper generation. A guiding notation is given to where to find the data concerning the children; thus: see III-A2, page 15. This notation means that data on the children will be found under the (III) third generation, under section A2, on page 15. The parents' names are at the head of the section in which their children are listed.

In many genealogies the lines of descent are traced only through the male lines. In this record, all the known descendants of James Harvey and Sidna (Gregg) Hanson are listed in all lines of descent.

CHAPTER 1

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

The history of the United States is a story of growth and change. From the first settlers to the present day, the nation has evolved through various stages of development. The early years were marked by exploration and the establishment of colonies. The American Revolution led to the birth of a new nation, and the subsequent years saw the expansion of territory and the growth of industry. The Civil War was a pivotal moment in the nation's history, leading to the abolition of slavery and the strengthening of the federal government. The 20th century brought significant changes, including the rise of the United States as a world power and the challenges of the Cold War. Today, the United States continues to shape the world and its future.

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that a knowledge of the past is essential for a full understanding of the present and for the development of a sound policy for the future. The author points out that the history of the United States is a complex one, and that it is necessary to study it from many different angles in order to get a complete picture of it.

2. The second part of the paper discusses the role of the government in the development of the United States. It is argued that the government has played a major role in the development of the country, and that it is necessary for the government to continue to play this role in the future. The author points out that the government has been responsible for the establishment of the Constitution, the development of the federal system, and the creation of the various departments and agencies of the government.

3. The third part of the paper discusses the role of the courts in the development of the United States. It is argued that the courts have played a major role in the development of the country, and that it is necessary for the courts to continue to play this role in the future. The author points out that the courts have been responsible for the interpretation of the Constitution, the development of the common law, and the creation of the various branches of the judiciary.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the role of the people in the development of the United States. It is argued that the people have played a major role in the development of the country, and that it is necessary for the people to continue to play this role in the future. The author points out that the people have been responsible for the election of the President, the passage of the laws, and the creation of the various branches of the government.

5. The fifth part of the paper discusses the role of the states in the development of the United States. It is argued that the states have played a major role in the development of the country, and that it is necessary for the states to continue to play this role in the future. The author points out that the states have been responsible for the establishment of the state governments, the development of the state laws, and the creation of the various branches of the state judiciary.
